

Wealth Report

The word “wealth” is defined in the dictionary as: “an abundance of valuable resources”. A valuable resource is your online presence and it will be set up so that you will receive a constant flow of income from it. Hopefully this flow will increase so that eventually you will no longer need to work.

We are in the technological age at the moment, the industrial era has passed and now it is much easier to make money than it ever has been before. Everyday people are making hundreds, thousands and even millions of dollars from online ventures. There is no reason why you are unable to do the same thing; with a bit of help, anything is possible.

One of the major keys to wealth is a multiple stream of income. If you have different ventures, each bringing in a small amount of income, then over time you will be able to replace your current work income.

An example:

One rental property gives you $50 positive cash flow each month, this may not seem like much but what about if you had 10 such properties? $10 \times 50 = $500$ month
Why stop at 10, how about 30 such properties? $30 \times 50 = $1500$
Rent is the basic income, there are still far more things that can be done to access the full potential of these properties. How about trading 10 of these properties in for an apartment block that triples the income you would have received...

Start off small and then expand out from there. A popular business income these days are through auctions on eBay.

- Many people start off by selling items they have at home.
- They then find that the auctions actually work and they go out to garage sales and buy more goods to sell.
- Next thing you know they are running a small business.
- Buying items at wholesale prices and selling at retail prices.

It is a start. People have made thousands even hundreds of thousands from eBay, and it all started by selling some old junk they had at home.
Have you sold anything on eBay yet? If not, why don't you give it a try...

What is the easiest way to start building a foundation of wealth?

Everybody has some sort of hobby don't they? Something they like to do in their spare time. How about you? If you enjoy doing this, maybe there are other people out there that also would enjoy it.
Tell them of your experiences; write a manual or book of your experiences and why you enjoy what you do. Even though you may not think so, there are people out there that are willing to pay money for the information you can provide.

An example:

<http://www.fuzzy-rabbit.com/>
The owner of fuzzy-rabbit has a great site; unfortunately it was not making any money for her. It was mainly just a way to let people of the world know how to care about rabbits. She was providing experiences that she had accumulated from looking after her own rabbits. She wanted to know how she could make money from her web site; we discussed selling rabbit products or affiliate programs etc.
We eventually mentioned creating an e-book on how to raise and look after rabbits. This was completed, and now on her site you can purchase a copy of her Fuzzy Rabbit Guide for $10.

The e-book is not very long, but the information is very helpful to those people who are into rabbits. $10 may not seem like much but her work on this project is complete and she has managed to create a source of income that will continue to work for her.

Lets say one sale a week, which makes around $40 a month. Not much but ends up been $480 a year. Every little bit helps and that more than covers the cost of hosting the web site.

Anybody can write a short book or manual on something they know about. All it then takes is marketing it to the right people. What about if you made five of these e-books on different subjects targeting different people and each of those books selling for $10? The possibilities are endless.

As a thank you for reading this wealth report, we want to help you get started on the road to wealth. How?

You write up a book, manual or article and send it to us. We will then create a page on our website selling it as an e-book for you. We will do the marketing of the page; all you need to do is write the book. What is the catch?

We are setting up a joint venture between us, in return for marketing the site we ask for 25% of the profits... for example the e-book sells for $10, we receive $2.50 and you receive $7.50 You can contact us through our contact form at <http://www.rutservices.com/contactus.aspx>

All the best on your road to wealth.
